REVOLUTIONARY WAR, 1775-1783

Three sets of records are good starting points for researching soldiers in the Revolution: military service records, pension records, and bounty land records.

- Service records record some basic information about each soldier, including the unit they served in, their birthplace and date, the rank they achieved, and the dates of service.
- After the Revolution, some veterans received a pension, while others chose to be paid for their service with bounty land.

Ancestry Library Edition* database contains the following Revolutionary War related records:

- U.S. Revolutionary War Rolls, 1775-1783
A collection of more than 425,000 records documenting men who fought for the colonies in the American Revolutionary War.
- Abstracts of Graves of Revolutionary War Patriots
Revolutionary War graves found between 1900 and 1987, which include the name of the patriot and the cemetery in which the headstone is found.
- U.S. Compiled Revolutionary War Military Service Records, 1775-1783
Records of regular soldiers, militia volunteers, Navy personnel and members of auxiliary.
- Revolutionary War Pension and Bounty-Land Warrant Application Files, 1800-1900
A detail-rich collection of over 80,000 files from applications by officers and enlisted men who served in the Revolutionary War.
- Daughters of the American Revolution Lineage Books
A collection of 152 volumes containing nearly 2.4 million names.
- Revolutionary War Officers
Records of more than 14,000 officers who served in the Revolutionary War.

HeritageQuest* database contains the following pension records:

- Selected Records from Revolutionary War Pension and Bounty-Land-Warrant Application Files
Records from an estimated 80,000 pension and bounty-land-warrant application files based on the participation of American military, naval, and marine officers and enlisted men in the Revolutionary War. Most date between 1800 and 1900. The files are part of Record Group 15, Records of the Veteran Administration.

TIPS FOR FINDING RECORDS: WWI AND LATER

It often surprises researchers to learn that soldiers in the World Wars and later conflicts are more difficult to research than participants in the Civil War. There are several reasons for this:

First, a major fire in a National Archives repository destroyed 80% of the Army service records for soldiers discharged between 1912 and 1960, and a number of other military personnel records from that period. Secondly, privacy concerns limit access to records of recent conflicts.

Recently, some major record sets have become accessible and some are now available through the *Ancestry Library database and www.familysearch.org:

World War I Draft Registration Cards, 1917-1918

Draft registration cards for more than 24 million men registered for the WWI draft in 1917 & 1918.

U.S. World War II Army Enlistment Records

Collection of more than 8 million names of U.S. Army enlistees during WWII, 1938-1946.

World War II Draft Registration Cards

Almost 6 million draft cards of men who registered for the fourth WWII draft in 1942.

WWII Prisoners of the Japanese, 1941-1945

An index of 30,000 records containing the names of prisoners of war, plus their ranks, service numbers, units and prison camp information.

WWII Missing in Action or Lost at Sea

More than 80,000 names of military personnel reported Missing in Action or Lost at Sea during WW II.

World War I, World War II, and Korean War Casualty Listings

Names of more than 135,000 casualties from World War I, World War II, and the Korean War.

World War I Draft Registration Cards on Microfilm

The Grosvenor Room has 30 rolls of microfilmed World War I Draft Registration Cards for Buffalo and Erie County. The first registration was on June 5, 1917. There were two additional registrations on June 5, 1918 and September 12, 1918.

A map showing draft board districts for Buffalo, with the Erie County town districts on the back, is available in the Grosvenor Room on the Map Table. Using the 1917 Buffalo City Directory, locate the address of the man you are searching for. Then consult the map to determine which draft board district this address is in. If you need to use the 1918 City Directory, you must use the microfilm version, as the Library has no hard copies in usable condition.

The Library subscribes to Ancestry Library Edition, which has a database index of World War I Draft Registration Cards, 1917-1918. The cards were completed by nearly 24 million men living in the U.S. Information that may be found for an individual includes: name, place of residence, date and place of birth, race, citizenship, occupation, and employer.

World War II Records available in Ancestry Library Edition database

The Library subscribes to Ancestry Library Edition, a database that includes the following:

- World War II Draft Registration Cards, 1942. These cards are from the Fourth Registration, the only registration currently available to the public (the other registrations are not available due to privacy laws). The Fourth Registration, often referred to as the "old man's registration", was conducted on 27 April 1942. The records include name of registrant, age, birth date, birthplace, residence, employer information, and physical description.
- U.S. World War II Army Enlistment Records, 1938-1946. Contains information on about 8.3 million men and women who enlisted in the U.S. Army during World War II. While this database contains information on the majority of the men and women who served in the Army during this war, it is not complete and does not represent the entirety of the U.S. Army servicemen. The records usually include: name of enlistee, army serial number, residence (county and state), place of enlistment, enlistment date, grade, army branch, component, term of enlistment, birthplace, year of birth, race and citizenship, height and weight, education, marital status, box and reel number of the microfilmed record.
